

Latest info on COVID-19

- The new coronavirus (COVID-19) has spread globally and led to travel restrictions worldwide – including in Taiwan.
- Starting Thursday 19 March 2020 midnight, foreigners will no longer be allowed to enter Taiwan unless they have an Alien Resident Card (ARC) or are businessmen with the required permits. Travelers entering Taiwan will be required to spend 14 days in home quarantine; this measure is also being enforced retrospectively for travelers who have come to Taiwan from Europe, Turkey, Egypt and Dubai between 5 and 14 March 2020. You'll find all measures implemented in Taiwan on the website of Taiwan's Centre for Disease Control: www.cdc.tw/En
- Belgium is currently advising against all non-essential trips abroad. Should you need to travel, please contact your airline company or travel agency to check about the likely (re)scheduling of your flight.
- For more information on the situation in Belgium and the measures taken by the Belgian authorities, please refer to the following website: <https://www.info-coronavirus.be/en/>
- In Taiwan, the Belgian Office will only be accepting visitors prior a duly made appointment either by phone (+886 2 2715 1215), email (taipei@diplobel.fed.be) or via our Facebook page (@belgianofficetaipei). Visitors will be required to wear a mask. No visa application will be handled in the next 30 days.
- Last but not least, if you are currently in Taiwan but not registered at the Belgian Office, please send us an email at taipei@diplobel.fed.be with your latest contact details and/or register your stay on the platform <https://travellersonline.diplomatie.be/>
